Providence BPC is pleased to announce a new ministry to be launched in September, 2012. "North Idaho Bible Institute" will begin with evening classes on Wednesdays, with an orientation class set to gather on September 19 at 7 p.m. We hope to provide an opportunity for learners in our region to thoughtfully interact with the Christian faith in the context of a relaxed and warm Reformed fellowship.

The format of our classes will be guided discussion. Most will be approximately an hour in length. There will be no charge for taking the classes, though you may need to purchase a text or two for reading and discussion purposes. Students high school age and up are welcome to take part, and the public is welcome. Currently we intend to eventually develop the curriculum into a one-year certificate in various areas of biblical studies, apologetics, and worldview studies. We have an arrangement with Western Reformed Seminary in Tacoma, Washington, to accept our classes for credit for students that wish to pursue their studies on the graduate seminary level.
